

Rome's Press Grows Weary Of Liz Caper

HOME, April 4 (TNN)—The Italian press, which has had Elizabeth Taylor on the front page for weeks, was showing signs yesterday that it was becoming disillusioned with her career.

Most of the articles printed in the Italian newspapers and magazines were less enthusiastic about the activities of the modern-day Cleopatra who was spending time with her husband, singer Eddie Fisher.

The magazine "Lo Specchio" (The Mirror), which only last week published an excellent picture of Elizabeth Taylor, Richard Burton kissing Miss Taylor off the set at the Cinecitta studios, said it had had enough of Miss Taylor.

In one article, entitled Enough of the Star, it said:

"At Rome, Liz is passing out of style. Her personality has tired everybody a little . . . No one wants to hear about her more about her clothes, her wearing, her mannerisms, her illnesses, her tear, her food poisoning, her children, her husbands, the husbands of her friends. Let her finish once and for all this film and get back to Hollywood."

Mrs. Taylor apparently ignored the critics and put in a full day's work on the "Cleopatra" set. Of the announcement that she and Fisher were getting a divorce bothered her, she deserved another Academy award for her performance in not showing it.

During a wild scene, the signs of being unhappy. Observers who saw her at lunch with Burton, who is playing the role of Marc Anthony, said she seemed untroubled and oblivious to the stories that linked the two stars romantically.

He 'Won'

ASHLAND, Mo., April 4—LeGrand Wren, who didn't want his name on the ballot or of Ashland Tuesday when 55 voters wrote his name on their ballots, is now a winner.

"I'm tired of listening to people tell other people—I won't run again if they paid me," Wren said before the election.

Everyone else apparently felt the same way because nobody filed. Nobody else got in.

Ashland, a town of 465 residents, doesn't pay its mayor.

Jerome Youth Is Freed on Bond

JEROME, April 4—Forrest Bliss, 16, Jerome, was arrested by Jerome police for contributing to the delinquency of two minor boys, Sherry and Jerry Cahabas. Both appeared in probate court Monday and was released on $100 bond. A hearing will be held Friday.

Bliss and Cahabas were arrested for robbing Simplex Builders Oct. 3, 1961. They stole $10 in cash and approximately $100 in checks. Bliss, who was not involved in the robbery, took them to the police station in Jerome, and there helped them burn the checks. The cash box containing the money was recovered from the gravel pit.

Bliss, who was referred to the state board of health, was turned over to the state board. Cahabas' hearing will be held Thursday in probate court.

Victor C. White Paid Last Honor

Funeral services for Victor C. White were held at 2 p.m. Wednesday at Reynolds funeral chapel with Rev. Rev. Marshall M. Clegg officiating.

Russell G. Bennett was soloist and Mrs. John Birrell was organist.

Panbearers were Tom Gilbert, Don Silvers, W. M. Lowry, Art Sitter, Weldon Haikins and Paul Taber, Jr.

Concluding rites were held at the Twin Falls cemetery under the direction of the Twin Falls BPOE lodge No. 1183.

"YOU'RE 88 YEARS YOUNG NOW" says Rosemary Hof, right, as she congratulates Joseph P. Marshall on his birthday anniversary Tuesday night. Miss Hof and Peggie Uhlig, 11, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Uhlig, are Marshall's granddaughters. About 40 friends and members of the family gathered at his home Tuesday evening to help him observe his 88th birthday anniversary. When asked to sit in a chair for his picture Marshall observed, "Sitting down is for old people!" (Times-News photo)

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON, April 4.—The normally astute Walter P. Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers, has had tariff reduction program in greater jeopardy than it already faces from the protectionist bloc.

The AFL-CIO vice-president, who also heads the United Automobile Workers' union, as well as AFL-CIO President George L. Meany, favor the White House proposal. They deny that the economic situation has forced American goods out of the foreign market. Many of their local units disagree with their attitude, including the United Auto Workers, which is employing their members to hurt management. It has always raised the question of the wage differential when the major unions demanded pay boosts, shorter hours and additional fringe benefits. The Meany-Reuther report has been widely accepted by the public.

Reuther's activities in this field are more than usually important. In his influence at Washington, he obtained the key post in the battle over wages for one of his disciples. He is George C. Weaver, assistant secretary of labor and a member of the CIO national staff since 1957. He has held several other government posts and was the interests of the unions were involved.

When I questioned labor department spokesman on Weaver's activities several weeks ago, they minimized his role on the foreign economic front. They said that he merely "coordinated" union officials, supplying them with copies of collective bargaining contracts and explaining procedure.

PUSHED DEMANDS ON GERMANS—Now, from Weaver's testimony before the Senate agriculture and transportation committee, it is obvious that his negotiations and interventions cover a wide field. It may be significant that the establishment of his new office—or new functions—coincided with President Kennedy's decision to ask Congress for authority to lower tariffs by 50 percent.

Basically, all the astronauts are volunteers for hazardous duty, the same as the infantrymen who volunteer to go on a patrol into enemy territory. Yet the infantryman, who may be far more likely to be a casualty, receives no additional pay for volunteering. However, the services do have means of paying those who face hazardous duty day after day. The examples are flight pay given to pilots and the extra pay specified for sailors in the submarine service.

The national aeronautics and space administration had these excellent examples when the Project Mercury program was started. No one would have objected to a schedule of extra pay to compensate the volunteer astronauts for the extraordinary dangers to which they might be subjected. Further, there could have been no criticism for a program of providing heavy insurance policies for the protection of astronauts' families. A combination of extra pay and insurance would have made sense.

But when the Life magazine contract was sanctioned, it opened the way to all sorts of commercialization. With the example of the Life contract, is there anyplace now where the line can be drawn sensibly? What's to prevent the astronauts from endorsing breakfast cereals, cigarettes, headache pills, vitamins, soft drinks or what have you?

Before the policy gets completely out of hand, it's time for the national aeronautics and space administration to lay down some hard and fast ground rules. The Life contract has been unchallenged, but NASA, congress or whatever other agencies are involved should specify quite plainly that the astronauts will be limited to the Life contract. No other business activity should be permitted and it should be stated so plainly that no one can misunderstand.

Just because the Life contract started the venture on the wrong foot is no reason why a bad situation should be permitted to grow steadily worse and eventually reach the place where it would be impossible to impose any control.

Furthermore, the astronauts should start appearing in public in their respective service uniforms. Perhaps the NASA has specified the astronauts should wear civilian clothing to avoid any suggestion of competition among the various branches of the service. But the astronauts are drawing pay from their respective services and are carried on rosters as on detached service or duty. There is an Astronaut emblem that can be worn on the uniform to give proper recognition.

The seven men are national heroes and there is no thought of detracting one iota from all the credit that is due them. Yet are they of any greater stature than other national heroes, men like Sgt. Alvin York or Capt. Collin P. Kelly?

Even with heads lost somewhere in outer space, it's possible to keep both feet planted firmly on the ground. The space race has made the nation giddy.

FREE ENTERPRISE

Five prisoners at San Quentin prison in California escaped over the prison walls and had a few hours of freedom. It wasn't a question of enjoying the freedom because during the hours they were free, they were hiding and trying to elude those who eventually returned them to their cells. Yet there is a lesson in the escape for those who would put to live—the ultimate in security.

Those five prisoners had all the security in the world. They didn't have to worry about clothing, medical treatment, their next meal or anything else. The prison provided everything they needed to live—the ultimate in security.

They were willing to risk their lives for the one thing they did not have—freedom.

Maybe this security business has been over-emphasized.

WHEN IT EVER?

How long has it been since the general world association was something to worry about?—Chicago Sun-Times

"How Did We Get up Here?"

Wrong From Start

The proposed and rejected gift of $24,000 homes to each of the seven astronauts is focusing attention on a situation that never should have developed in the first place. It all started when the astronauts were permitted to sign a contract with Life magazine which purchased exclusive rights to their joint story. From that wrong beginning has devolved the present gift of homes which is under fire.

The contract with Life is wrong because it gives exclusive rights to a story that should be general public information and equally available to all newspapers, magazines, radio and television stations. The astronauts are still service men, and as such they are working for the nation as a whole.

No one will deny that the special duty of the astronauts is loaded with danger. In all probability, one or more of them will not survive the program. Yet that is no reason to put the astronauts in a special category in which they can capitalize financially on their duty.

Basically, all the astronauts are volunteers for hazardous duty, the same as the infantrymen who volunteer to go on a patrol into enemy territory. Yet the infantryman, who may be far more likely to be a casualty, receives no additional pay for volunteering. However, the services do have means of paying those who face hazardous duty day after day. ## HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM PEGLER'S VIEW

HARLINGEN, Tex., April 4.—It is supposed to be beautiful, but Harlingen is the capital of oil. It is supposed to be safe, but Harlingen is so rich that Nazi Germany and the Soviet empire would have gambled millions to live up to capture it if had been possible.

It is supposed to be clean and green, but Harlingen is a Grand valley lain within reach of their logistics, and it is a particularly barren, incognito to us," the lower Rio Grande Chamber of Commerce says.

It is supposed to be peaceful, but Harlingen is undivided as a tourist area, but everything's there.

It is supposed to be quiet, but Harlingen is a noisy border town with the unhappy parolers of the immigration service are looked upon with mild hostility even by Americans because they want to keep the swashbuckling Mexican.

It is supposed to be a place to work for Americans, employers who want to hire them. The Mexicans are good workers and efficient, and the oil companies are an attraction for tourists under private enterprise. In a vague, pathetic way they seem to think the good old days of Miami Beach are over, but just as Miami has so many Baptists and they are so strong in politics that nothing like Miami Beach can ever come into play.

Miami Beach needed gambling in the mad days of promotion under Steve Hannigan and Carl Fisher and you can't even mention penitentiaries in Texas as anything like Miami Beach.

There was a film at racing track here a few years back that got put down. The fascinating hell-hole of the Maco brothers in a cactus-filled plain of Goliad, Tex., was extinguished with triumphant yells of "hellah!" four years ago by Will Wilson, the state attorney general.

Mr. Wilson is now running for governor, about fourth in a field of six, and falling back fast. His frowns, drowsy, drowsy, dilapidated, monumenal of achievement in the atom-wrecked plain of Goliad, Tex., will be a dream of the slick-tack at the crap tables that will put out of business, but God will bless him for the holy zeal.

Miss Green also was voted the title of Miss Congeniality by other contestants at the annual event held in the Minico school gymnasium Saturday night. Miss Orion, a senior at Minico, won over a field of eight contestants and was crowned by Karen Hatch, Miss Rupert of 1961. (Times-News photo)

Murder Pair Plead Friday

ELKO, Nev., April 4 (UPI)—A Galup, N. M., couple arrested at Weiser, Ida., on Nevada murder and robbery charges are scheduled to enter pleas Friday before District Judge Taylor Williams.

Loyd Lancaster, 38, and his wife, Mary Louise, 21, are accused of fatally shooting bar owner Andy Edelhardt, 48, and a ranchhand George Davis, 49, near Junc. 78, about 10 miles west of Weiser.

Lancaster has denied involvement in the incident. His wife, however, signed a statement at Weiser saying she was present when her husband allegedly shot the two men.

Fred Lacy Given Honor at Rupert

RUPERT, April 4 (UPI)—Funeral services for Fred Lacy were held Monday afternoon at the Walk Mortuary chapel with the Rev. Herbert Vaughan of the First Baptist church officiating.

Mrs. Ellen Fraegitzer played the prelude and postlude and accompanied the trio in two hymns. Members of the trio were Jake Wall, Clifford Nutting and George Parmeter.

Pallbearers were Dan Martin, Guy Shultz, Dr. J. H. Plank, Gert Walton, Webb Saffel and Al Buttane.

Caring for the flowers were Mrs. Emil and Mrs. Floyd Brady, Mrs. Roy Schneider, Mrs. Fred Hansen, Mrs. Jake Wall and Mrs. Robert Culley.

He Was Mad

COLUMBUS, Ohio, April 4 (UPI)—Angry at his former wife, Thurman Atkins, 28, took it on her automobile accident, according to police, claiming he heard by the time the jury before it indicted him for malicious destruction of property.

The defense says Atkins jumped on the car's hood, kicked out the windshield, broke other windows, poured sugar in the gasoline tank and sand in the radiator.

The car was sold for junk.

2 Confirmed

FILER, April 4—Ernest Kidder, 40, was baptized and confirmed as members of the LDS church at the Sunday noon teetotal meeting at the Filer ward. Bishop James Page was in charge of the meeting.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Garth Oalloway and family, Twin Falls; Dean Watson and William Roberts, Buhl. Testimonials were given by Watson and Roberts.

Truck Upsets

RUPERT, April 4—Lloyd Martindale, 17, Burley, escaped injury Monday afternoon when the 1958 Dodge pickup truck he was driving ran off the road and curved into a drainage ditch.

Sheriff Theo Johnson, who investigated, said the road which goes through the factory yards isn't clearly marked, and makes a sharp curve across the drain ditch.

Race Figure May Reveal Bans Letter

NEW ORLEANS, La., April 4 (UPI)—A Roman Catholic woman forced by the response of Archbishop Joseph Francis Fenton to a letter from her with excommunication—"if—the run around doesn't stop."

Mrs. B. J. Gallon Jr., head of the segregational organization, said the Rev. O'Neil Jackson, Inst. said the archbishop's chancery acknowledged receipt of her letter asking for an audience. She said she wanted to answer the letter after termed a "personal communication" by the archbishop—because it contains false statements and false accusations.

"The archbishop received my letter yesterday," Mrs. Gallon said, "but I don't know if an audience would be granted this week or next week."

"I told the press I set Friday as the deadline for the audience, but I have no guarantee of the latter threatening me with excommunication," she added.

A similar letter went to State Rep. Rodney Burns, who was on the speaker's platform at a meeting of the pro-segregation White Citizens Council last Friday. Burns received the letter Sunday, asked for an audience with the archbishop and waited until the session Monday.

Burns emerged from the session saying he emphatically opposed integration. "As a member of the Roman Catholic Church, he added, he would not be able to have any decisions pertaining to the diocese in which I live."

CHICAGO, April 4 (UPI)—The setter Robert Alterrett was recuperating today from a sword cut in the leg received in a dueling scene during an amateur production of the opera "New Moon."

The accident happened in an auditorium known as Cutline hall.

Students Enter Caldwell Show

Sixty students from St. Paul's Catholic school participated in the Southwestern Idaho-Eastern Oregon Science Fair Saturday at the College of Idaho, Caldwell.

Republican candidate Jack Hawley, speaking to students at the science fair, said that Caldwell, said it was "extremely important" that they learn more about the affairs of government.

Hawley, stumping for Sen. Frank Church's post, said that if he were elected, he would have a seat in local, state and national government, "our federal bureaucracy would not have been able to grow into the complex and overextended nature of expensive red tape that it is."

Conley Ward, who recently resigned as a Marsing school teacher to give full time to the campaign, told the students on the Democratic ticket, "There are two major issues in this campaign: Municipal finance and the inventory tax."

House Okays Large Corps

WASHINGTON, April 4 (UPI)—The House passed legislation that would authorize peace corps twice as much money and three times as many overseas volunteers for the peace corps.

The bill, sent to the Senate by a 316-104 vote, would authorize peace corps budget of $3.75 million dollars for the year beginning July 1. Last year congress voted 30 million dollars to finance the training and assignment of 400 corpsmen to foreign posts.

Rep. Thomas E. Morgan, D.-Pa., chairman of the Foreign Affairs committee, said only 698 seats would be available for new recruits to the corps.

Said Morgan: "We don't want to be worried that the school will lose status."

Boys Strike Large Corps

CARLISLE, Wash., April 4 (UPI)—Six boys at the Carlisle grammar school here went on a sit-in strike yesterday against girls.

The strike ended after 30 minutes when masters permitted the boys to come out of the gym where they had barricaded themselves.

The boys objected to a proposed amalgamation with a nearby girls' school.

Said one boy: "We don't mind girls. We were worried that the school will lose status."

TWO UNIDENTIFIED PICKETERS from the Associated Groceries warehouse in Pocatello walk in front of Okay Food Center Tuesday in protest of the unfair wages and working conditions at the warehouse. Four Twin Falls stores where pickets were operating were Okay Food Center, Magic City Market, Drive-Way Market and Eighth Avenue market. Picketers were only informed that picketers were picketing the stores, but AG products. Only stores in Twin Falls were picketed. (Times-News photo)

Theme Listed For Grangers At Murtaugh

MURTAUGH, April 4—“Spring” was the theme of the program for the Murtaugh Grangers meeting held Monday night at the hall.

Everyone who attended of the community fellowship dinner to be served at the hall at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, Grangers are asked to bring food sufficient for their families and guests. Drinking will be furnished.

Friends L. (Gladie) Johnsons is to be honored with a birthday card shower at the fellowship dinner. The oldest member of Murtaugh Orange, he will celebrate his 80th birthday April 7.

During the business meeting Bob Bredesen gave a community service report to the effect that the Grange hall grounds had been surveyed and the planting of trees has been planned.

The program presented by Mrs. Art Carrier, lecturer, included a poem read by Mrs. Tommy Shouse and an article read by Will Beck. Mrs. William McCoy gave an original reading by Jennie Chadwick Hollister Orange.

Mrs. Carrier read two humorous articles on vitamins and garden supplies. Mrs. Earl Young read a poem. Grangers and Art Carrier gave the definitions for agriculture and liberty. All members took part in a piano and flower quiz. The lecturer gave the closing thoughts.

All the hand made Easter bonnets are urged to turn them in to Mrs. Carrier for use on the Pomona Easter program. Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. John Young and Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Daniels.

Filer's FFA Unit Lauded

FILER, April 4—The FFA chapter of the Filer high school received a superior rating at the Idaho two United States senatorial FFA convention held at Burley.

In order to earn a superior rating, a FFA chapter must meet

12 categories of activities, field, chapter equipment, parliamentary procedure, participation in the district, state, and national programs of agricultural work as to be eligible for competition and participation in FFA contests and awards, states Joe Hopper, chapter adviser.

Larry (Annis) son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Annis and president of the Filer chapter, Filer FFA district, presented the application for this award at the convention.

Annis also served as one of the members on a panel discussion on agriculture district Future Farmer of America activities at the state convention.

GAS DUMPED
NORFOLK, April 4—A freight train carrying molten asphalt sailed from this port yesterday to dump 22 tons of poison gas in a 12,000-foot deep spot in the Atlantic ocean. The gas was used for World War II and discovered near Bad Kreuznach last year.

Solons Assured Over Base Role

WASHINGTON, April 4—Senators from both sides of the aisle assured that their state's Mountain Home air force base will continue to play a vital role in the defense program.

Sen. Henry Jackson, Repub-ican, and Sen. Frank Church, Democrat, said they were advised by spokesmen for the air force that there are no plans to close the base now stationed at the base.

Sen. Jackson, whose home town was flooded, and she discovered a broken rail, notified a working crew and thus saved an express train from being wrecked, the paper said.

Burley Plans

Fete for Sen.

K. C. Barlow

BURLEY, April 4—Plans for an event honoring State Sen. K. C. Barlow, who is retiring as a senator, were announced at a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce at the Twin Falls National hotel by Mrs. Fred Anderson, chamber secretary.

All service clubs in Burley will work with the Chamber of Commerce on these arrangements. Also Senator events will be held. Also Senator Barlow has been asked to give the chamber a list of the guests he would like and also comment for the main speaker. Further details will be announced.

It was also announced that the "Atoms in Action" show will be shown here in Burley on July 9 to 13. Transportation committee of the chamber will be in charge of this and details will be given later.

A letter from the Chamber of Commerce in Portland was read, announcing an overseas market conference from April 11 to 13 at the Hotel Boise. It was brought out in the letter that the Idaho ranks fifth in the nation as a source of potatoes.

Allen Morris told chamber members about the mobile information unit being put on the In-For-State this summer in an effort to let people en route to the World's Fair in San Francisco know about Burley and just what is offered in the way of tourist accommodations, sightseeing, entertainment and hospitality.

A book on the area was shown showing the area facilities and what they are. He asked and was granted permission and help for this from the chamber. S. Matthews was in charge of the promotional committee. He asked for more discussion concerning the fall promotion idea, with theme to be the Idaho potato.

Allen Morris said he is having a contest to obtain a name for the event and various other items concerning the fall promotion idea.

At the end of directors' meeting held after the luncheon, Mrs. Anderson announced the regional state chamber meeting will be held in the Hotel Idaho on April 14.

Members who attended are Charles Hendrickson, Al Putnam, Elroy Sheelberger, Al Schaefferger and Mrs. Fred Anderson.

A letter was read from Mrs. J. O. Morgan, president in behalf of the United Nations association stating that the association plans a west to east covered wagon caravan this summer in the interest of peace.

Mrs. Morgan will address the chamber at a meeting May 7 on her way from New York to Portland. The association is also asking the chamber to send a delegation to light a Christmas tree when President Kennedy does this year in the interest of peace.

Conservative Youth's Death Probed; Dad Blames Reds

SAN DIEGO, Calif., April 4 (UPI)—A daughter, a member of the John Birch Society, has expressed no connection between the death of Newton E. Armstrong, Jr., 19, and his campus activities as a member of a politically active student organization.

The coroner has said the student died of either suicide or homicide, but he is keeping the cause open pending further investigation.

Dr. Malcolm Love, college president, and Dr. Herbert C. Peiffer, Jr., dean of men, said they saw no indications in the death and there was no need to change campus policies.

Armstrong's father said his son had felt his conservatism was a handicap at the college and was considering pursuing alternative studies elsewhere next year.

The architect's conception of the proposed building is now on display in his office at the junior high school, he said.

The 30-room building will include a 10,000-volume library, a combination cafeteria and auditorium and six specially designed rooms for handicapped children, he emphasized.

It is designed to adequately house 50 students and will be constructed on a 20-acre site one-quarter mile north of Sky View Manor. The building will face Caswell Avenue to the south.

The architect said the structure will be heated by natural gas and will reduce heat loss, he noted.

Construction is scheduled to start May 16 and school officials expect the structure to be ready for occupancy by September, 1963, Bagland observed.

Architects are Adams, Jones and O'Neil Jones. Twin Falls, Adams is doing the drawings and Jones will oversee construction work, he said.

Mrs. Cullings to Head Buhl PTA

BUHL, April 4—Mrs. Charles Cullings was elected president of the Buhl PTA for 1962-63 during a meeting of the group Monday evening at the P.T.A. Building. She succeeds Mrs. Frank Glese. James Russell was elected first vice president; Mrs. Donald Neumann, second vice president; Dorothy Machacek, secretary, and Mrs. Floyd Jones, treasurer.

Aldrich Bowler, Buhl high school speech and English instructor, served as master of ceremonies and his experiences in Holland, it was announced new officers will be installed at the May 7 meeting.

Refreshments were served by the third grade room representatives.

Yank Doctors Save Red Tar

PANAMA CITY, April 4 (UPI)—Authorities gave prompt assistance Tuesday to a Russian sailor man stricken with appendicitis aboard a Soviet freighter bound for Havana with a cargo of lumber.

The air ministry said Capt. Jean Conran, 32, of the French naval air force, who is serving with the WRAF, will take over as administrative commander in the technical training command Max. 7. She now is an inspector.

The vessel had radioed ahead describing the case.

A Canal Zone launch with a doctor aboard met the vessel. Captain Conran, when it arrived at the Pacific entrance of the canal.

The seaman, G. Aponov, was taken to a hospital for an operation.

Guests Flee Fire In Gotham Hotel

NEW YORK, April 4 (UPI)—About 250 guests were driven from their rooms yesterday by a fire in the Hotel Plaza.

The fire in a service area adjoining the grand ballroom sent acrid smoke billowing through the hotel and forced other hotel guests to leave their rooms some in night clothes.

About 50 persons were treated for smoke inhalation. Some of the guests said they waited a long time for an elevator and finally used the stairs to reach the lobby.

Cronin Predicts Outstanding AL Baseball Season

By JOE CRONIN
President of the American League

BOSTON, Mass., April 4 (UPI)—One of the most interesting seasons in American league history is in prospect starting with the traditional presidential opening game in Washington Monday. There will be new ball parks—and new faces among the ball players taking their places alongside the old and young stars of the American league to satisfy the interest of fans from coast to coast.

The first season of expansion has been a success. The historic move has been proven successful. The so-called new clubs did far better in their first season than was forecast. The new clubs, however, are not yet fully developed organizations. They join in the general panorama of optimism which permeates the league on the threshold of a new campaign.

These new clubs will be in new ball parks, too. The Los Angeles Angels in Chavez Ravine stadium, the Washington Senators moving to D. C. stadium from their traditional home park of the past.

As for the new faces, the newcomers in the big leagues, these are well divided among all the clubs in the circuit. In my 38 spring training seasons in baseball, I do not believe I ever before saw such a young contingent as was in evidence on the Florida front this year.

I was not able to enjoy an eye-witness view of the three American league clubs training in Arizona-Nevada. But from the reports of reliable information from the Far West found its way to Florida, indicating that the Boston, Cleveland and Los Angeles clubs share in this abundance.

The Indians have some fine young stars among the pitching corps and outfielders to bolster up proven stars such as Jim Perry, Gary Bell, Jim Piersall, Al Rosen, Wally Moon and John Romano.

The Red Sox, with rookies of last year like Chuck Schilling and Carl Yastrzemski now becoming strong in their lead, have added such stars as Bob Turman and pitcher Dick Raditz ready for 1962. (The Angels boast several new names to add to the fine crop they acquired during their year of operation.)

In Florida, we saw Baltimore blend its John Powell, an awesome batter, with the Gentiles, Robinsons, and a speedster in the making, and the Angels' Bob Turman and pitcher Dick Raditz ready for 1962. (The Angels boast several new names to add to the fine crop they acquired during their year of operation.)

The Tigers, in the 1961 pennant race until halted by an injury epidemic, show deeper pitching to back up the acknowledged great hitting of Al Kaline and Detroit front-line corps. The Tigers have a fine young catcher in Joe Azcue, fine looking hitters like Mamie Jernigan, and new pitching prospects in the bullpen. The pros of 1961—Lumpo, Houser—Causey, Infield Don Mincher at first base gives the Minnesota Twins left-handed bunting punch, while a fine crew of catchers after the trade made use of the Killebrew, Aiston, Lemon—Battier—Power right-handed power in the batting order.

Jimmy Piersall adds offensive strength as well as ability to the Senators. Manager Mickey Vernon is also confident of better pitching, as well as improved catching, as seen from Bob Selsky's excellent performance last season. The Yankees have also profited from the influx of outstanding youthful talent. Infelids Tom Tresh and Phil Linz look like capable shortstops.

With Mantle and Maris, Ford and Arroyo, Berra and Howard, the world champions are definitely the team to beat in the American League. They may have fought the "Tigers" into September before emerging with the flag. This year an even closer and more widespread pennant race seems the prospect.

Feedlots Are Discussed by Burley Meet

BURLEY, April 4—Main topic of discussion at the city council-Monday night was the petition which the council received concerning the feedlots on the northwest part of the city-owned-by-Swift-and-company.

Many businessmen, competitors and Chamber of Commerce members attended the meeting to voice their opinions on the issue. They all agreed that Swifts are definitely an asset to the community and should be given a vote of thanks instead of having people formulate them.

Chairman, Lewis C. Palmer, Grain Supply, who began the discussion in support of the lots, noted how many agriculture operations are increasing in the county, at the same time Idaho enterprise goes down.

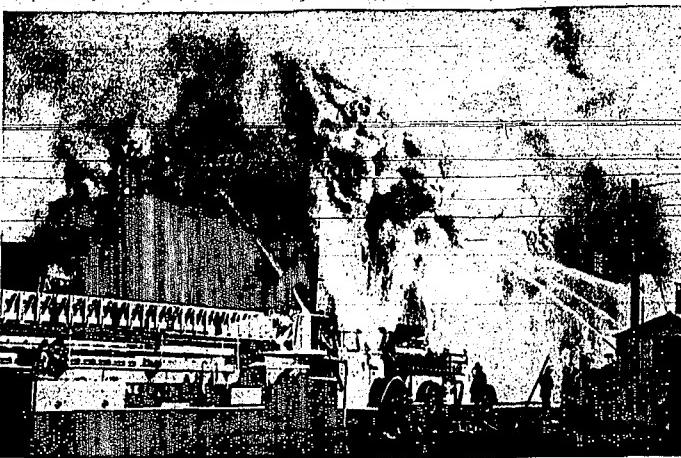

President of the Idaho Cattle Feeders association, Ralph Olmstead, Twin Falls, pointed out that the feedlot industry in Idaho is beef cattle.

Major J. Leonard Salmon said the council would move slowly on the matter because of the great interest shown in it.

Other action taken by the council Monday night was to refer three matters to the zoning commission—for recommendation.

On the first item, a 100-acre block on Overland was rezoned commercially; James Allen made a request for the area between 21st and 22nd streets be commercialized; a request by Max Payley for changing the
